Guidance for mental health and addiction services providers

The Ohio Department of Mental Health and Addiction Services will be releasing a public-facing registry of recovery homes in early November. Starting January 1, 2025, only homes on this registry may receive referrals from mental health and addiction services providers.

Providers should check this registry and ensure that any homes they regularly refer individuals to are listed on the registry. If they are not, those individuals need to take the necessary steps to ensure they are on the registry by January 1, 2025.

Only homes that are appropriately accredited may be on the registry. The two entities providing the accreditation are Ohio Recovery Housing, which offers a certification, and Oxford House, which charters recovery homes.

Calls To Oklahoma's 988 Mental Health Lifeline Decrease Need For Law Enforcement Involvement

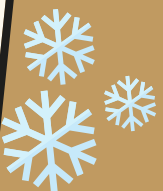

In Oklahoma City, citizens experiencing a mental health crisis can now call 988, a three-digit number offering an alternative to 911. This system, launched in 2022, provides people in crisis with a way to speak to trained service providers rather than involving the police. The shift has significantly reduced the number of mental health-related calls to the police, with a 79% increase in 988 calls in Oklahoma County from October 2023 to October 2024. The Oklahoma City Fire Department now participates in crisis response with paramedics, care navigators, and clinicians. Most calls to 988 are resolved without police intervention, and mobile crisis teams handle those that can't be addressed over the phone.

'It's my purpose': Operation Lean on Me aims to serve Northeast Ohio Community

Matlus, inspired by her difficult upbringing in a poverty-stricken neighborhood, founded Operation Lean On Me three years ago to help those in Northeast Ohio facing challenges like poverty, substance abuse, and unemployment. As a substance abuse counselor, she recognized the need for basic items like food, clothing, and access to mental health services. Her nonprofit aims to relieve community stress by connecting people to resources that address their specific needs. Operation Lean On Me partners with local businesses and organizations to make a positive impact, such as providing meals to children in a juvenile detention center. Matlus views her work as her purpose, not a job, and continuously seeks volunteers and donations to support the community.
